Request #13119 : How to permit workers to skipping a row without giving up?

Gianfranco Cecconi   Wednesday at 09:46
Some of the rows in my jobs are very, very difficult. I would like workers not to get too frustrated and have the option to just not submit their judgement for that row, but do the others, without "giving up" in the header of the page. Of course they would not be paid for the skipped row. Is that feasible? Thanks.

Hi Gianfranco,

Thanks for reaching out. At this time, there's no way to allow a contributor to skip a row without payment, as they're paid per page of work they complete rather than row.
